

BIG ARMY DIRIGIBLE BURNS: MANY HURT

STOP SCRAP AND PAY UP, HOOVER'S HINT TO EUROPE

REPUTATION OF LOANS WOULD UNDERMINE GOOD FAITH.

NO UNDUE STRAIN

American Taxpayer—Ultimate Sufferer if Sums are Not Paid Back, Claim.

Toledo.—Reputation of the loans made by the United States to the allied and associated nations during the war would undermine the whole fabric of international good faith, Secretary of Commerce Hoover, a member of the allied debt commission, declared Monday night in an address here. He added he did not believe any public official, either in the United States or any other country, could or should approve their cancellation.

"These loans are, in fact, debts owing to our taxpayers," Mr. Hoover said. "They were made at the urgent request of the borrowers and under their solemn assurances of repayment. The loans were individual to each nation. They have no relation to other nations or to other debts."

Creditor Without Voice.

"The American taxpayer did not participate in negotiations and acquired no territory or any other benefits under the treaty as did our debtors. There is no question as to the moral or contractual obligation."

"With the exception of some minor amounts, perhaps 5 percent, I am convinced that these debts can be repaid in some reasonable period of time without realization of the oft-expressed undue strain on the debtor countries or the threat of a flood of such loans to other nations in such quantity as would endanger employment of the factories and workmen of the United States."

Analyze Debtors' Cases.

"The proposals for the postponement of payment of interest for a certain number of years arise from the belief that certain countries cannot physically make these payments at the present time without undue strain, or that postponement of interest would contribute to general economic stability and the more rapid recovery of these countries in which every one would benefit. The British do not make claims for such assistance from us and are arranging their payments."

"The proposition, therefore, narrows itself to debtors on the continent."

FRISCO GETS 1923 LEGION CONCLAVE

Vets Hear Gompers; Put Policies in Shape in Committee.

[By Associated Press.]

New Orleans.—San Francisco was awarded the 1923 convention of the American Legion by a unanimous vote.

The Legion, in national convention here, heard Samuel Gompers, head of the American Federation of Labor, tell of labor's aims and aspirations, and what it believes its rights and duties are. Mr. Gompers and K. M. Landis, supreme commissioner of baseball, received a noisy welcome from the "buddies" when they entered the convention hall.

The session was slow in getting under way, after a night of strenuous play last night, with outdoor dancing on street and sidewalk under the main trees of Jackson Square, New Orleans' historic "Place d'Armes," scene of the assembling of old black warriors' army of frontiersmen in 1815, was on the British veterans in 1815.

Policies were hammered into shape through a night of committee sessions and it is expected Wednesday the all-important resolutions committee will bring in a number of expected resolutions and is prepared to table a number of other topics. Among these is a resolution in the labor and light issue and any reference to the Ku Klux Klan.

ARGUE VALIDITY OF BOOZE RULING

White Star Line Counsel Holds Ships' Stores Not Affected.

[By Associated Press.]

New York.—Whether the mere presence of liquor in new stores on foreign vessels comes within the scope of the 18th amendment and the national prohibition act is the real issue in Attorney General Daugherty's ship ruling, said New York counsel for the White Star Line.

Mr. Daugherty's ruling, which forbids the sale of liquor on ships, is being challenged by the White Star Line, which claims that the ruling is invalid because it is not a "sale" but a "storage" of liquor.

Potatoes Hit Low Mark

It is hard to think back as far as the time when farmers were getting less than 50 cents per bushel for potatoes, yet the market price today is but 45 cents per bushel. For a few months back the price has been below one dollar unusually around 75 and 80 cents, but only within the last week that the price has gone below the half-dollar mark.

The demand for them is excellent, but there are such quantities this year that farmers are selling them for any price. The market was reported a little firmer Tuesday, with prospects of increase.

ARTERIAL HIGHWAY SYSTEM ADOPTED, 18 "STOPS" NAMED

PARKER PEN PETITION FOR LAND PURCHASE APPROVED.

VOTE FOR LIGHTS

Council Orders Plans for Jackson St. Extension—Viaduct Compromise Downed.

Janesville now has a metropolitan traffic regulation system as a result of unanimous action of the city council, Monday night, in passing an ordinance creating six arterial highways and providing that all traffic must come to a complete stop before crossing or entering upon these through streets at 18 intersections.

Three other important matters were disposed of by the council, including rejection of the railroad company's request for a new viaduct over North Franklin street, and unanimous approval of the Parker Pen company's petition to acquire the Elks' property at Court and South Blue streets for a new addition. After considerable discussion, it was voted to have City Engineer C. V. Kerch draw up plans for extending the ornamental lighting system on South Jackson street from Pleasant street to West-ern avenue, giving a completely lighted arterial highway from Milwaukee street to the Jackson street bridge.

Ordinance Effective at Once.

While the arterial highway ordinance was adopted to become effective at once, it is not proposed to enforce it rigidly until proper signs have been erected at the "STOP" intersections. The purchasing committee and a city engineer are to buy the 34 signs necessary to put the ordinance into effect. The ordinance will be enforced by the police department.

Where to Stop.

Section 2 of the ordinance provides that "No person driving any automobile, motorcycle, or other motor vehicle shall cross or enter upon any of the arterial highways or any other street or highway at any intersection, unless he first comes to a complete stop."

Section 3 of the ordinance provides that "No person driving any automobile, motorcycle, or other motor vehicle shall cross or enter upon any of the arterial highways or any other street or highway at any intersection, unless he first comes to a complete stop."

Section 4 of the ordinance provides that "No person driving any automobile, motorcycle, or other motor vehicle shall cross or enter upon any of the arterial highways or any other street or highway at any intersection, unless he first comes to a complete stop."

Section 5 of the ordinance provides that "No person driving any automobile, motorcycle, or other motor vehicle shall cross or enter upon any of the arterial highways or any other street or highway at any intersection, unless he first comes to a complete stop."

The board of public works was instructed to proceed with plans for a sewer on Locust street, from a point 175 feet west and a sewer on Riverside street, from the Northwestern street to Stone street. A $25,000 bid for a sewer on Galena street from Center avenue 143 feet west was approved.

Coast-to-Coast Craft Destroyed in Gas Explosion

(By Associated Press)

San Antonio, Tex.—The army dirigible C-2, which recently completed a transcontinental flight and had reached San Antonio on its way back to Washington, was burned early this morning while being taken from its hangar at Brooks field, preparatory to a flight over the city. Several of the crew were hurt, one seriously. The dirigible caught on the frame-work of the hangar as it was being taken out. The bag split and the gas ignited. In the car of the dirigible at the time were members of the crew and several passengers.

The big balloon was completely destroyed. As it was being taken out of the hangar, the wind caught it and threw it up against one of the big doors at the entrance.

Passengers heard the hissing of the gas and a few seconds later the gas, for some unknown reason, became ignited, going up in a flash. The dirigible was burned and the car dropped to the ground, throwing the passengers to the concrete floor.

Passengers in the car and their injuries were not serious.

Major John MacThompson, injuries undetermined but not thought fatal.

Capt. Jeffrey Montague, unhurt.

Capt. Nelson Walker, bruised about face.

Daughter of Murdered Choir Singer Also Called in Probe.

[By Associated Press.]

New Brunswick, N. J.—Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall and her eccentric brother, Willie Stevens, were brought into the courtroom by Detective Ford Davis shortly after 11 o'clock today for further questioning by authorities investigating the murder of the Rev. Mr. Hall and Mrs. Mills.

Shortly before their arrival, County Prosecutors Beckman of Somerset and Stricker of Middlesex—who have predicted at least two arrests before night, began questioning Henry Stevens, another brother of Mrs. Hall, who had driven over from his home in Lafayette in response to a summons.

The authorities later planned to question Miss Florence Norwood, attorney for Charlotte Mills, the slain woman's daughter, to ask her about the authenticity of letters purporting to have been written by Mr. Hall. Mrs. Mills, which were published this morning.

The letters, couched in endearing terms, were reported to have been obtained from Charlotte. The authorities want to know how the newspaper was able to obtain them when they were withheld from those seeking to solve the mystery.

Charlotte Mills, daughter of the slain choir singer, was taken from her class room in high school Tuesday and accompanied to the court house by a state trooper.

NEW PLAN URGED FOR HIGH SCHOOLS

Fitzpatrick Points to Need for Development in Address to Rotary Club.

A program for high school development in Wisconsin is being urged to remedy present chaotic teaching conditions in many rural districts and some cities. Dr. B. A. Fitzpatrick, Madison, secretary of the state board of education, declared in an address before the Rotary club meeting at the Grand hotel here, Tuesday.

Dr. Fitzpatrick reviewed the existing high school situation in Wisconsin which shows that half of the secondary schools have four or less teachers, while seven-eighths of the territory is not within high school districts and that suggested the following program of development:

Survey New Program. The creation of a capital fund, the income of which shall be devoted at least in part definitely to high school and more particularly to high schools in rural areas.

Larger state aid immediately from the general fund to be gradually replaced by income from the new capital fund.

Revision of the conditions and scope of present state aid to high schools.

Organization of high school districts including a larger number of children and greater financial ability to support high schools.

The organization of general rural high schools in the rural areas. Dormitories should be built wherever necessary. Ten acres of land should be regarded as a minimum campus for rural high schools.

Improvement of the quality of high school teachers by longer and more specific training.

Organization of high schools so that teachers will be called upon to teach only subjects in which they are qualified. The organization of junior high schools instead of four year high schools in smaller places so as to make possible better trained teachers and better utilization of teacher service in the interest of a thorough education of the high school student.

Need More Teachers. "As a matter of history, Wisconsin's educational policy, especially its state legislation, has been largely in terms of the common school," Dr. Fitzpatrick said. "In particular, the high school policy has been one of neglect."

"Half of Wisconsin's high schools have four teachers or less, and more than two-thirds have less than six teachers," the speaker said. "It is reasonably certain that with this program that the modern high school is expected to offer the high school student, it cannot be adequately undertaken with less than five teachers devoting their entire time to the work."

"According to statistics collected by the college of agriculture, seven-eighths of the territory of the state is not within high school districts."

These statistics do not mean that every child of the population is without high school opportunities because the high schools are located in the centers of population, but it does mean that there are extensive areas without convenient access to high school opportunities.

"The modern high school teacher should be a specialist at least in one subject, and under ordinary conditions in two subjects. Under the existing conditions in this state many high school teachers are required to teach subjects with which they are unprepared to teach, and many are asked to teach a bewildering variety of subjects."

ent. Our annual payments from the whole of our continental debtors would amount to a total of about $350,000,000 per year for interest and amortization. The burden of payment falls with different weight upon each of the nineteen different debtors.

"Must Show Us."

"Omitting the possible 5 per cent that is hopeless of collection, it will be found that respective annual payments due to us from different countries vary in their burden upon them from 2 to 12 per cent of their governmental income.

If there be some of these countries who should be relieved of the annual payments for a few years in order to promote economic stability, then there needs be a demonstration of the facts in respect to each individual country that would be convincing to the American taxpayer and to congress.

"The taxpayer would naturally consider that there are other things of vastly larger dimensions than the postponement of $350,000,000 a year which must march in advance before economic prosperity can be secured to Europe. For economic stability requires that there must be such political and economic readjustment between the states of Europe as will bring about an atmosphere of peace in replacement of an atmosphere of war.

"There must be rearrangement of economic boundaries of Europe that will give the hope of economic survival of states which can be saved by no financial operation of any kind. There must be a reduction of armament not only as a guarantee of peace but as a contribution to the balancing of budgets and the cessation of inflation.

"America has dealt with Europe during the last few years in terms of idealism. We have always given; we have never received. No one can deny that we are capable of great sacrifices and of great, generous charity. We want to take part in making a better world but it must be clear that sacrifices and charity from America do not themselves bring about a cure for these evils which now gnaw at Europe's economic life."

There is a sufficient demand, a class taught by Ralph Jack, instructor of the high school bands, will be added to other classes, now in full swing for the winter season.

WATERS DIVORCE

Granted by Grimm

Pratt Camille Barker Waters took the witness stand in the Rock county circuit court, Monday afternoon, and after telling a tale of domestic violence was granted a divorce from her husband, Edwin L. Waters, by Judge George Grimm.

The divorce was granted on the grounds of non-support, the wife declaring that since their marriage in Rockford, the husband contributed little toward her support and that of the baby.

"It was all right when I was working and could support myself and give him money," declared the wife, "but then he could hang around the pool halls. When I had to leave the house, he would not work steadily."

The only other witness called in the case was the father of the plaintiff, her guardian ad litem.

Send every energy to finish the high school building so it may be used before the end of 1923. With the completion, the problem of a community center will be solved.
Janesville needs and should have ample hotel facilities to care for the public. That will be especially true when the high school is completed and the auditorium is available for the largest conventions.
Finish the paving of Janesville streets as soon as there can be the necessary results. The city should not place a heavy burden on the people.
Give the city a park. There is now available $50,000 for this purpose and it should not be used for any other. Finish the city and school plant.
Material building for World War soldiers, the living and the dead, to be also an historical building.

ANOTHER HERO OF THE RADIO.

A ship on fire at sea presents to the reader of the story the very scene of terror and danger.
When the Honolulu was within 650 miles of any port the passengers were confronted with the necessity of taking to the sea in open boats at the mercy of the far spreading Pacific. Between them and rescue a few years ago there was only chance. Literature of the sea, the perfect sea story, is filled with tales of such voyages, tossed here and there on a friendless ocean, the rescued dying one by one, sailors leaping into the sea crazed for want of water and food, and at last the few survivors taken on board a passing ship.

But in October 1922, the wireless speeds message after message over the sea, the story of the fire is told in spectacular brevity, all off the ship at last—the 217 persons—all but the captain, chief officer and wireless operator. Once upon a time it was the captain who went last. Now it is the wireless man. He it was who last stepped into the waiting boat, shielding his face from the blistering flames.

Wireless, a hundred years ago would seem like the voice of God crying over the waste of water, summoning help to come to the rescue. Radio, a mystery still and in its infancy of development, contributed to the saving of this whole ship load of passengers and crew. To those who go down to the sea in ships it is like an arm of divinity in its great power of protection.

Looking at Judge Becker as an independent candidate for district attorney of Green county one concluded that the judge loves punishment.

VON HINDENBURG AND THE GERMAN PRESIDENCY

Von Hindenburg, the author of a celebrated line which later on he lost, is being groomed as a candidate for the presidency of the German republic and it is quite likely that he will oppose Franz Ebert, the harness maker, now president.
It is hard for anyone to conceive Von Hindenburg at the head of a republic or even as a candidate for an office under one. He is entirely military in his past relations and affiliations, has no real conception of what a free government means and would be immediately launched into a sea of trouble with legislators and other officials who have lost the spirit of the autocracy which bred Hindenburg. He is an anachronistic figure or in plain American slang, a has-been.

Ebert has had a hard enough task. Whatever may be the criticism of his administration it cannot be said that he has failed. In the first place he has managed to assimilate so many discordant elements into the German political governing body that next to Lloyd George he is the greatest leader of Europe. We have been ignoring him in speaking of Germany and talking of the Chancellor and others but after all Ebert is the man around whom the situation has revolved.
Germany has lived four years as a republic. She has met intrigue and revolution and successfully combated both. Crises have come, been faced, and passed.

Von Hindenburg, exiled still of the Kaiser in exile, his picture hung in the exile's home at Doorn, would have no place in the free Germany under a republican form of government. As a military dictator he might succeed if he had a force sufficiently strong to do his bidding—no more.

Kansas City has spent $21,000,000 on its parks.
The result is one of the finest park systems in the country and a better place in which to live.

PISTOL TOTTING REGULATION

For a year or more there has been a feeling that we might correct crime and check murder and hold-ups by lessening the freedom with which the revolver is permitted to be sold and carried.
Of course here and there the revolver has its earnest advocates as a corrective weapon and necessary. But it seems the few good things that may be said of the revolver are entirely outweighed by the bad.

The American Bar association at its meeting in the summer called for legislation that will prevent the sale of revolvers to private individuals. The International police conference has followed this with even more emphatic resolutions against the general and promiscuous sale of the revolver.

Magistrate McAdoo, of New York, calls the pistol the "curse of America." He made the astounding remark that "there are more pistol carriers in New York and Chicago than in the whole of Europe outside of the armies."

A bill is now before congress providing that revolvers shall not be sold to private individuals except under many restrictions and that the manufacture be curtailed to police and military use.
This will certainly be drastic but apparently nec-

The Banking Publications

By FREDERICK J. HASKIN

Washington.—The United States has more periodical literature than any country in the world and if a man sought to keep up with its full volume he could spend his entire time on nothing else and still be far behind. No one can hope to be familiar with all the publications issued periodically in this country but perhaps the least known group, so far as the general magazine reading public is concerned, is composed of publications of the highest quality.

This group is composed of the monthly bulletins issued by the great banking institutions of the country. Business men and bankers who are close students of current events and take every precaution to be informed are familiar with these publications, but they almost entirely escape the notice of the general public. They are not advertised and they are not displayed on newsstands.
Yet some of the best literary talent in the country is engaged in their preparation and they are given away free.

A few of the banks restrict their lists to customers and depositors but, as a general rule, any person may be placed on the mailing list to receive these bulletins without charge.

One of the longest established and best of these publications is the monthly bulletin of the National City Bank of New York. It usually is a publication of about 15 pages, all of which is text as no advertisements are carried. This publication is edited by George M. Roberts, vice president of the bank. Mr. Roberts formerly was Director of the Mint and has for years occupied an enviable position as economist and commentator on business, social and political affairs. Mr. Roberts' salary probably is greater than that of any magazine editor in the country, not excluding the great nationally known monthlies. Were he not engaged in the bank and followed the vocation of writing for the general public, his articles would be in great demand and his name would be advertised on many covers. As it is, his talents are devoted to the modestly conducted but immensely valuable periodical which the public never sees because it does not take the trouble to ask the National City Bank to be put on the mailing list.

Take the current issue of this publication as a typical example. It contains carefully written discussions under the following topics: general business conditions; industrial conditions, clothes and shoes building operations, the agricultural situation, the foreign demand for American products, corn and livestock, the cotton crop, immigration and its effects upon the farming population, profits of industry, foreign competition, money and banking, condition of the bond market, inflation of the currency, prices, wages and the cost of living, scarcity of currency in Germany, the Federal Reserve System, labor banks, personal incomes, the new tariff.

The publication is by no means devoid of human interest. On the contrary it is full of it. It tells such stories as that of the Russian farmer in North Dakota who, single handed, cultivated 400 acres of land, in the harvesting season working all night on moonlight nights as well as all his two boys, one 12 and the other 14 or 15 years of age, raised 1,500 sheaves and cultivated a 500 acre farm in addition, without assistance.

At the other end of the country, the Mercantile Trust company of San Francisco publishes a monthly review. Among the articles contained in the current issue are those on Mexico's debt, past and present; water power in California, metal mining in Utah, the financial situation in Japan, the status of the Oregon lumber industry, Hawaiian sugar and the farming situation in Idaho. This issue contains a fine simple reproduction of a map of North America published in 1850. California is shown as an island and Alaska does not appear at all. At the time of original publication, its publishers described the man as "new and most curious." The bulletin frequently publishes such curiosities of special interest on the Pacific Coast.
One of the liveliest and most readable of the bank bulletins, from a human interest point of view, is that published monthly by the Northwestern National Bank of Minneapolis. It is smaller in size than either of those named above but always brims over with interest, not only to bankers and business men but to everyone who is interested in the way human beings live. While it contains serious discussions of business and financial conditions it does not exclude an occasional story about bank robberies, nor does it exclude anecdotes. Always these are connected with the point of the main discussion.

The Guaranty Survey is another monthly published by the Guaranty Trust Company of New York. Commerce Monthly is quite a pretentious publication issued by the National Bank of Commerce in New York. Both of these are invariably serious in tone and presented in a style unlikely to captivate the casual reader.

The Girard Letter, published by the Girard National Bank of Philadelphia is a small pamphlet, but invariably attractive. It contains stories of business which vie in interest with the best published in the commercial magazines.

Each of the Federal Reserve Banks publishes a monthly bulletin, reporting in careful detail the condition of business, industry, trade and finance in its district. These are rather heavy publications, that published by the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland probably being the only one which occasionally prints matter of general interest.

These bank publications are anonymous. The articles are not signed and usually no editor's name is given. The men who make them get no glory out of their work excepting within their own organizations, but the public gets the benefit of their best efforts.

The list could be continued almost interminably.
There are hundreds of such publications, most of them monthlies, but a few semi-monthlies. Many of them are merely small two or four page pamphlets of purely local interest.

The purpose of the banks in spending the large sums of money which these issues cost is to keep their customers and depositors accurately informed on business conditions. A bank will be prosperous if its customers are prosperous.

essay if we are to stop the crimes which probably would never have been committed had the criminal not carried a revolver. Thuggery thrives on the pistol.

(We would have little trouble if the mothers had as good control over the children as they have over their husbands.)

The United States has sold $500,000,000 of securities. These are a form of bond. They were oversubscribed 2 1/2 times. There was a billion two hundred and fifty million dollars ready before the time for bids had been opened a day. "Impoverished America" let the day when the bonus was presented to congress seems to have rapidly recovered.

We gather that in New York the song is the only thing cut out of the old "Wine, Women and Song" program of pre-Volstead days.

Having been repudiated by both republicans and socialists, Brookhart, of Iowa, should adopt the mule as his emblem—no pride of ancestry or hope of posterity.

Mention of Christmas at this time seems to be premature.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST.

APPLES RIPE FOR EATING

Apples ripe for eating, and the grade fire blazing high.
And outside the moon of autumn fairly swimming in the sky.
The cellar packed with good things from the vine and field and tree.
Oh, the speech of man can't tell it, but it gongion seems to me With such warmth and cheer around us, we should all burst into song And store enough of gladness now to last our whole lives long.

Apples ripe for eating—there's a joy beyond compare.
To pay for all our trouble, and the burdens we must bear!
The bowl upon the table filled with round and rosy cheeks,
And enough down in the cellar to last all the month of cheer.
So that when the bowl is empty we can fill it up again—
And in spite of that we grumble and we bitterly complain.

I sometimes sit and wonder as we pack life's fruits away
And hoard them in the cellar for the bleak and wintry day.
Why the mind of man has never tried to store a shoal of cheer.
In the cellar of his memory for the barren times of year.
So that when life's bowl is emptied and I think that life is vain
He can look his board of pleasures and just fill it up again.

Apples ripe for eating and a stock of them below
For the long cold nights of winter we still come to know.
So that when we need a pleasure that will seem to soothe the soul
We can wander to the cellar and fill up the apple bowl.
So we can, if we are mindful, when our hearts with grief are sad Refresh our faltering courage with the pleasures we have had.

been solved by Asa J. Doolittle, of Haysville, O., who has invented the disappearing ink for use on the printing press. This ink entirely fades out twenty-four hours after it has been printed, leaving absolutely white paper, which the reader will return to the newspaper office so that it may be printed again.

Departing Indian chief, will his fifteen squaws to a United States senator. They shall have been endowed. No senator could support them on his salary.

Wisconsin is called the Badger state because a barber in that state invented the badger haircut made popular by Jack Dempsey.
Texas is the largest state in the union, but wouldn't be so large if it didn't lie right on the edge where it can lap over into Mexico quite a way.

If Europe is slow about coming across with the amount of her debt to us, maybe we can send a few lecturers over there and get it that way.

And hate in large-sized batches, Is Old Jim Craig, who bums a snootie And walks off with my matches.

Who's Who Today

GEORGES CLEMENCEAU

Former Premier Georges Clemenceau of France, who is coming to America, "to tell the duties of each people in the information world crisis created by the war," will sail, uncompanied, on the French liner Paris, Nov. 21, and is scheduled to reach New York Nov. 28.

They call Clemenceau "the Tiger of France," because he fights like that creature of the wilds. He is a little man, little and bald, with a bristling white hair, and flashing eyes, and a habit of holding his battle to a finish. His life reads like a wild, improbable romance. At 21 he was an exile. At 25 France was besieged. He was in the front lines, and saved her from the German disaster that threatened.

"My will," Clemenceau said, sternly, "must be the law of France."
They gave him his way. All his life he has been a fighter. Before he was 40, people called him "the tiger." At 82 his fire is still unquenched.
He has met reverses only to make them stepping stones to his triumph.

He decided to be an editor. He produced a fury newspaper that never left any question as to its beliefs. That paper failed. Two years later he established another. And this paper, too, struck its blow straight from the shoulder. But it also failed. However, Clemenceau had made up his mind that he would succeed. He established a third paper, only to see it die. But each failure had taught him something he did not know before. From the ashes of his first three ventures he fashioned his fourth newspaper. The fourth proved a success.

LOOKING BACKWARD

FORTY YEARS AGO

Oct. 17, 1882.—After a lapse of two weeks, theaters will be open again next week with Brig's Boston Operatic Minstrels play at Lap-pin's hall.—Miss M. E. Gould will receive party balls Saturday night, until eight p. m.—Hon.
Charles C. Williams will be the chief speaker at the Republican rally tomorrow night at Lap-pin's hall.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

Oct. 17, 1892.—A. Hyatt Smith, Janesville's first mayor and Wisconsin's first railroad man died at his home, here, last night. He was born in New York city in 1817 and came to this state as its first miller.—Hon. H. A. Cooper addressed a large gathering at the Myers theater Saturday night.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Oct. 17, 1902.—H. H. Jackson and L. W. Hill, Rockford, of the interior, were arrested by M. J. O'Bryane to the ground during the Elks carnival here in the summer. Now he is suing them for $10,000 for injuries received in the fall.—Janesville residents watched with interest the total eclipse of the moon at 11 last night.

TEN YEARS AGO

Oct. 17, 1912.—A health club has been organized in this city, started by W. Earl Flynn, health speaker, who has been giving a series of lectures here. The last one is to be tonight.—Secretary Lane of the Commercial club, is planning a "Made in Janesville" week.—"Voice" machines will not be used at the coming election, it is said.

ANOTHER NOISY JOINT

"During the winter of 1921 I slipped on the icy streets," writes a correspondent "and hurt my knee.
For several days I could scarcely walk and once I stepped into a hole in the gutter and seemed to throw the knee out of joint, causing great pain when I attempted to walk. Now when I bend the knee there is a sound as of the bones cracking, which can be plainly heard, and I wonder whether the knee can be broken or the oil has gone out of the joint or the gristle is causing the trouble. It gets quite stiff at times. It feels as though the knee cap were cracked when I bend the knee."

More symptoms that we have allowed to creep into this column for a long, long while, but they are comparatively unique and for that reason it seems safe to expose them here.
The trouble began with an injury of the knee. It probably was not a break or fracture or crack of the knee cap (patella), for if that had happened the victim would have been totally disabled for many weeks, whereas the primary disability was only "several days." In short, a moderate or minor injury of the knee started the trouble. So we may exclude all "rheumatism" right off the bat. Of course there is no such condition as rheumatism, anyhow, but it is well to exclude it before we go too far. For victims of any and all troubles of the joints are prone to have rheumatism if the doctor in the case is at all diffident about it. And so many doctors say all no difficult that I seize this opportunity to immunize this particular victim against rheumatism at a subsequent stage of his derangement. He should carry his weight and the instant anybody attempted to hang a diagnosis of rheumatism on him, blow it over.

Neither the oil gone out of the joint. That can't happen. There is no oil in the joint to go out. To begin with, unless some doctor has found it in the course of experiments on the joint.
The victim's third guess, that the trouble arises from the gristle, is probably right. The primary injury of the joint, and the instant anybody attempted to hang a diagnosis
over.

HOROSCOPE

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1922.
This is not a lucky day, according to astrology. Venus, Mercury, Mars, the Sun and Uranus are all in mutually aspect.

Wise men and women will pursue their routine affairs, avoiding all temptation to step from the beaten track.
This rule is sinister for all who seek power of any sort and will be depressing to candidates for public office.

Warning is given to political aspirants that prohibition is likely to bring years of incompetency and division into the government.

Military affairs will come to the front at this time when strange events are foreshadowed.

Uranus is in a place supposed to increase discontent and to cause criticism of the present and other men foremost in national affairs.

Mars in the tenth denotes an extension of warm weather far into autumn.

Theaters should guard against mysterious accidents and fires which may do serious harm.

The stars appear to presage an increase of business in picture theaters and great improvement in the character of the films.

The position of Uranus denotes grave complications with foreign powers and warns against serious misunderstandings.

It will be recalled that astrologers found in the horoscopes of the King and Queen of England sinister signs indicating continued troubles with the crown.

The total eclipse of the Sun in September will have an effect for three years, according to astrologers who predict that it will affect the price of food and foodstuffs.
Persons whose birthday it is may meet with numerous difficulties during the year, but they will be able to surmount them. They should beware of sympathy from persons of opposite sex.

Children born on this day may be careless and inclined to be restless under discipline. Success is likely to come to them while they are young.

An Asset Worth Protecting

Public utility companies which are operated efficiently and economically are a big asset to any city. To weaken them in their finances or in their good repute, would be not only to hurt the utilities but to greatly lessen their ability to serve the city and its people. The stranger within our gates gauges the progress of the city by what he observes of the service rendered the public by the large utilities. Do you not think it is well to encourage these companies so they can aid to the utmost in civic advancement?
